Elementary Visual Art Guide

Foreword

- Foreword includes purpose as well as what can be expected from the guide. (How to use this document...)
- Explains what expectations are for teacher action

How to use this document:

This curriculum guide is not... (determined by specific curriculum phase)

- A lock-step instructional guide detailing exactly when and how you teach.
- Meant to restrict your creativity as a teacher.
- A ceiling of what your students can learn, nor a set of unattainable goals.

Instead, the curriculum guide is meant to be a common vision for student learning and a set of targets and success criteria directed related to grade-level standards by which to measure and report student progress and provide meaningful feedback.

The curriculum guide outlines the learning that is most essential for student success; it is our district's guaranteed and viable curriculum. The expectation is that every student in our district, regardless of school or classroom, will have access to and learn these targets. As the classroom teacher, you should use the curriculum guide to help you to decide how to scaffold up to the learning targets and extend your students' learning beyond them.

Within this document, you will find a foundational structure for planning sequential instruction in the classroom which can be supplemented with materials from any number of the linked resources.

Please consider this guide a living and dynamic document, subject to change and a part of a continuous feedback loop.

Multiple Opportunities

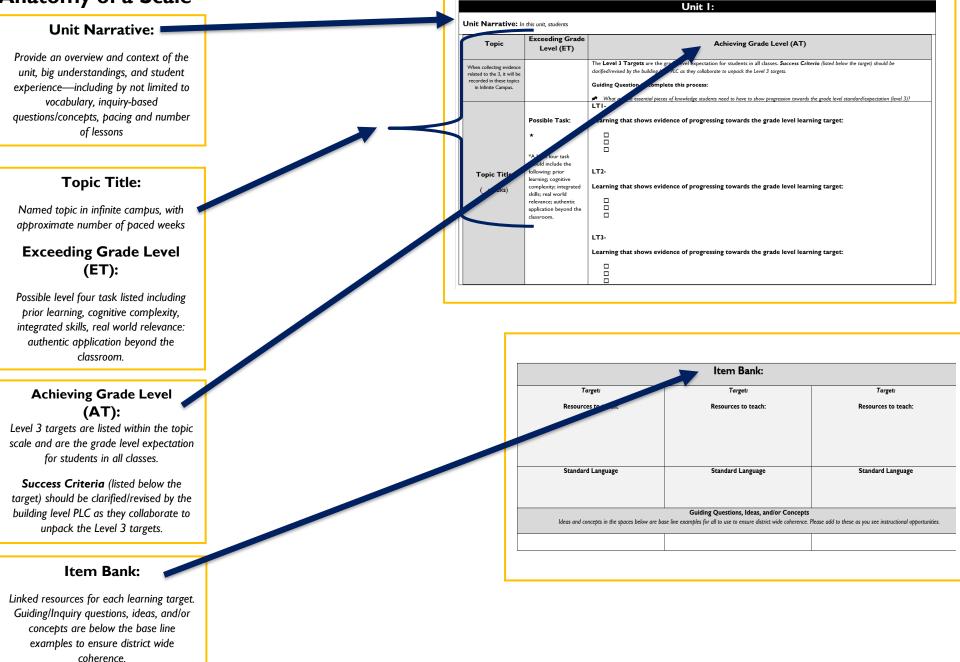

Philosophically, there are two forms of multiple opportunities, both of which require backwards design and intentional planning. One form is opportunities planned by the teacher throughout the unit of study and/or throughout the semester. The other form is reassessment of learning which happens after completing assessment of learning at the end of a unit or chunk of learning.

Students will be allowed multiple opportunities to demonstrate proficiency. Teachers need reliable pieces of evidence to be confident students have a good grasp of the learning topics before deciding a final topic score. To make standards-referenced grading work, the idea of "multiple opportunities" is emphasized. If after these opportunities students still have not mastered Level 3, they may then be afforded the chance to reassess.

Guiding Practices of Standards-Referenced Grading

- I. A consistent 4-point grading scale will be used.
- 2. Student achievement and behavior will be reported separately.
- 3. Scores will be based on a body of evidence.
- 4. Achievement will be organized by learning topic and converted to a grade at semester's end.
- 5. Students will have multiple opportunities to demonstrate proficiency.
- 6. Accommodations and modifications will be provided for exceptional learners.
